State Dept. Approves

Andover Vs. Russia In Hockey Possible

Rep. Paul W. Cronin stated today that the Andover High school hockey team can be granted State Department approval and assistance to participate in hockey games with Russia and European countries.

The Andover Hockey Association has for many years had active programs for boys from six to sixteen years of age. They have sponsored trips to Canada as well as visits by Canadian teams. Having witnessed the benefits to the boys of such an exchange, a team parent, Richard Bliss, thought that competition and contact with Russians and Europeans would be equally valuable.

Charles Vars, coach of the team, concurred. Bliss and Vars assisted by Harold Wennick and Robert Grange developed the plan and approached Rep. Cronin for his advice and support.

The trip would be made during the February school vacation and would be the first such trip to be made by a high school team. Usually only championship college and professional teams have participated.

A committee of hockey team parents under Bliss is organized to raise the $10,000 needed for transportation expenses. Their major project will be a winter sports night at the Forum in Billerica where professional hockey players and championship skating stars will participate.

Rep. Cronin stated that Congressman F. Bradford Morse, was instrumental in working out arrangements with the Office of Cultural Exchange in Washington. The Parents' Committee have contacted the superintendent of schools and school committee. They will be presented a detailed plan for their review and approval.

Shawsheen Rubber Co. To Expand

A local firm is undertaking the second expansion of its plant within recent years.

Shawsheen Rubber Company, Andover St., Ballardvale, has under construction a $70,000 addition to its facility. The one story addition will be of steel and cement block with an aluminum roof. It will be built by Channel Building Construction Co., Inc., 63 Park St.

Another addition to the plant was completed in 1962.

Paul Kumph, Jr., of Shawsheen Rubber said the addition will provide for expanded production facilities and also more employment. Production continues to increase at the plant and additional equipment and hands are needed to meet the demands.

Pave Way For New Firm

The selectmen Monday night paved the way for a new million-dollar industrial plant to be built off Dascomb Road near the Allied Chemical plant.

The board gave its approval for change in drainage in order to allow the Brockway-Smith-Haigh-Lovell Company of Charlestown to build a 200,000 square foot building. The new construction will encroach on some wetland area, thus it was necessary for the firm to appear before the board at a Hatch Act hearing, held a week ago.

Monday night, with recommended changes in design from the building inspector and conservation commission, the selectmen gave their approval.

The matter now goes to the state department of natural resources for action.

Once approved it is expected that construction will get underway. Officials of the company want the footings in by November so that plant construction can begin in March.

Wave Of Breaks Sets No Definite Pattern

A wave of house breaks over the past three months has netted thieves thousands of dollars in money, television sets and jewelry, primarily, according to local police officials.

The 43 breaks investigated between July and September, show no definite pattern as to operations, investigators state. The only concentration of a series has been in the south end of town for a period, when money appeared to be the object. In the Lowell St. area it appeared the breakers were in search of television sets.

There was no consistency, however, since different areas were hit at varying times. First it was Lowell St. then sections in the south end. Police find it difficult to concentrate in one area.

Officials feel the television thefts are the work of professionals, who know what they are doing and apparently aware the homes are empty.

No one sees anybody in the neighborhood at the times of the breaks. Neighbors have been asked if there was any strange activity and negative replies follow.

Someone entered the Sanborn school this week and entry was through use of a glass cutter opening a pane on the door. Nothing of value was taken since the would-be thieves were scared off.

In what appeared to be a case of thieves knowing what they wanted, the Andover TOWNSMAN office on Chestnut was broken into two weeks ago. The safe was rifled in the office, but other items of value were untouched.

In addition to the reported and investigated breaks there have been a number of attempted breaks, foiled by the presence of a burglar alarm in the home.

In many cases residents have requested no publicity be given the break. Sometimes even neighbors were unaware that the home next door was victimized.

Police feel that with the co-operation of the residents of the town, a more concerted effort to curb the thefts could be accomplished. Signs of strange cars or unusual activity by strangers could lead police to possible solution of some of the breaks and probably prevent others.

The breaking and entering activity has subsided somewhat within the past couple of weeks, officials report.

School Site Needs Urgent, School Committee Is Told

"Our statistics of growth need updating," subcommittee members William A. Doherty and William F. King declared Tuesday night when they presented their long range report to the rest of the school committee. Their conclusion: "Continued growth is inevitable" and "New school sites are needed urgently."

They showed that now in 1968, the school population has already reached the level which the 1965 Planning Board Report predicted it would reach in 1970, and said there was little doubt that by 1972, Andover schools would reach the population figure predicted for 1980.

To top it off, the town in 1968 has acquired only one of the nine school building sites the already outdated Planning Report called for.

"People have the feeling that God will stop us from growing to more than 45,000 people," complained King, "and it just ain't so!"

As reported last week in the TOWNSMAN, the Doherty-King report claims that Andover could reach a population figure of 60,000 by the year 2000, since the town is larger in area than most people realize. In 1965, only a little more than 2,000 of the residentially zoned 17,000-plus acres had houses on them, leaving about 15,000 acres still open for development.

Estimating a resultant school population of 17,000 with half in elementary schools, Doherty and King called for ten 25-acre 550-pupil school sites, or their equivalent in larger sites for a smaller number of larger schools, if this proves educationally feasible. Also recommended was the study of additions to Central, South and Sanborn schools to enlarge them and bring them up to the educational specification level appropriate for educational programs the school committee has endorsed. It would save money if an architect could provide one basic design for all three additions.

The long range report, which school committee members will study before full discussion on Nov. 12, also endorsed hiring a new assistant superintendent to help keep central control of an expanded system, the expansion of bus and custodial responsibility under separate supervision and a full-time work force for repairs and maintenance.

Voting System Info Available

With slightly more than a week and a half to go before the National election, Town Clerk Irving O. Piper is busy giving instructions on Andover's new electronic voting system, to be used here for the first time, Nov. 5.

The new voting machinery will find persons casting ballots with a stylus which will perforate a card. The card thus punched for the candidate of the voter's choice will be processed through a computer, and the results tallied within a short time following the close of the polls.

Andover Costs Reduced If Voke School Expands

An increased Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational-Technical high school at less cost to Andover than at present was explained to the selectmen at the school Monday night.

Net cost of the facility expanded to accommodate 1,200 students would be $7,737.17 in 1970, according to the figures presented by Director James Booth. The town paid $67,960 this year.

To accommodate additional programs at the school, a 138,000 square foot addition is planned at a cost of $4,250,000.

Under recent legislative provisions, reimbursements to the town for participating in the regional program would find the town receiving $97,495.17 from the state for the local contribution toward participation in the school program.

The selectmen seemed enthusiastic about the proposal and asked for time to study the figures and plans further.

Director Booth explained the program as currently being carried out at the school and the proposed curriculum. Increased programs would include medical courses to train boys and girls to meet the increasing demands of medicare and medicaid. In this regard a pool is planned for the

No-Fix Tickets Issuance Shows Increase

Andover police had a 96.5 per cent increase in issuance of "no-fix" traffic citations during the first half of the year, according to Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin.

Statistics released by McLaughlin indicated that 611 citations were issued, while there were only 311 during the same period in 1967.

The majority of the complaints were for speeding violations with many for stop sign violations. The intersection of High and Haverhill Sts. appeared to have the highest density of stop sign violations.

Special Ship For Vietnam Bound Mail

If you are mailing gifts to members of the Armed Forces in Vietnam remember that it takes about three weeks for a fast ship to cross the Pacific, Postmaster Mooney said today.

This year, there is going to be such a ship - the Santa Claus Special - leaving from California in the latter part of November.

On board this Pentagon - Post Office venture will be thousands of holiday gifts sent by surface postage. The ship will stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhom, Cam Ranh Bay and Saigon.

To make sure large gifts sent surface postage arrive on time... put them in the mail by Nov. 9.

Mark them on the outside "Santa Claus Special" just below the stamps. There are several options available for mailing to the military which can save money, but for large parcels sent to Vietnam, send by surface mail, by way of the Santa Claus Special with a mailing deadline of Nov. 9, said Mooney today.

QUESTION NO. 1

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Do you approve of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution summarized below, which was approved by the General Court in a joint session of the two branches held June 16, 1965, received 210 votes in the affirmative and 26 in the negative, and in a joint session of the two branches held May 10, 1967, received 220 votes in the affirmative and 9 in the negative?

YES
NO

SUMMARY

The proposed amendment of the Constitution increases from five days to ten days the period of time the Constitution gives the Governor to act upon measures passed by the Legislature and submitted to him for approval. No other changes are made in the several Constitutional provisions relative to action by the Governor upon such measures.

QUESTION NO. 2

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Do you approve of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution summarized below, which was approved by the General Court in a joint session of the two branches held August 30, 1966, received 188 votes in the affirmative and 46 in the negative, and in a joint session of the two branches held May 10, 1967, received 174 votes in the affirmative and 78 in the negative?

SUMMARY

The proposed amendment of the Constitution authorizes the Legislature to impose an income tax graduated according to total income, and authorizes the granting of reasonable exemptions, deductions and abatements, as an alternative to the exercise of the Legislature's existing power to tax income under Article 44 of the Amendments to the Constitution. Without limiting the foregoing authorization, the proposed amendment permits any such tax to be imposed at a uniform percentage of an individual's federal income tax liability or at graduated rates applied to his total income taxable federally, and it permits reasonable variations of any federal provision. It requires that the graduated rates, exemptions, and deductions be set without regard to the kind of income being taxed.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Do you approve of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution summarized below, which was approved by the General Court in a joint session of the two branches held July 20, 1966, received 225 votes in the affirmative and 1 in the negative, and in a joint session of the two branches held June 15, 1967, received 210 votes in the affirmative and 2 in the negative?

SUMMARY

The proposed amendment of the Constitution defines the circumstances in which a Governor's inability to perform his functions shall cause his office to become vacant, and it establishes a procedure for making the necessary determinations. The office will become vacant following a declaration of disability by the Governor himself or by the Chief Justice and a majority of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, or such other body as the Legislature may provide. The vacancy will terminate four days after the Governor declares that no disability exists, unless (1) within that period the Chief Justice and majority of the Associate Justices, or such other body provided by the Legislature, should make a contrary declaration and (2) within another stated period the Legislature, by two-thirds of each branch present and voting, then determines the issue contrary to the Governor's declaration.

The same procedure will also apply to a Lieutenant Governor who in the case of a vacancy is performing the Governor's duties.

The proposed amendment also requires the election of a Governor for the unexpired balance of the four-year term if a vacancy in the office of Governor as described in the proposed amendment continues for a six-month period expiring more than five months prior to a biennial state election other than an election for Governor.

QUESTION NO. 4

LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

Do you approve of a law summarized below, upon which the House of Representatives did not vote and upon which the Senate did not vote?

SUMMARY

The proposed law provides that the official ballot in the biennial State election for the year 1970 shall contain a question asking the voters whether there shall be a convention in 1971 to (1) revise, alter or amend the constitution of the Commonwealth on the following subjects, insofar as they relate to the structure of government, and no others: the Executive Branch; the General Court; the Executive Council; the government of cities, towns and counties and their relationship to each other and to the government of the Commonwealth; (2) simplify and rearrange the constitution, and (3) provide methods of amendment thereof. The question will state that the convention shall not consider or propose any measure which relates to the Massachusetts Declaration of Rights, the provisions of the Massachusetts constitution concerning the "Judiciary Power" (other than provisions respecting the Executive Council), or any of the excluded matters enumerated in Article XLVIII, II, Section 2 of the Massachusetts constitution. The question will fix the number of delegates to the convention at 150, of whom 20 members shall be members of the General Court; the remaining 130 members shall be elected by the voters in the manner summarized below. The question will also state that the convention shall conclude its business not later than 120 days from its first session.

The proposed law provides that if a majority of the votes on the foregoing question is in the affirmative, the convention shall be held in July, 1971 to revise, alter or amend the constitution on the matters enumerated above only. The House of Representatives and the Senate shall each elect as delegates 10 of its members, not more than 6 from each branch coming from the same political party. Of the remaining 130 delegates, 10 shall be elected at large and 120 shall be elected from the 40 senatorial districts, 3 from each. Provision is made for the manner of nominating and electing these 130 delegates, without party or political designation, for filling vacancies occurring in the position of any delegate, from whatever source chosen, and for the conduct of the convention's business.

Any revisions, alterations and amendments of the Massachusetts constitution adopted by the convention shall be submitted to the people at the State election in 1972 for their ratification and adoption in such manner as the convention may direct. If a majority of the people voting thereon ratify and adopt such revision, alteration or amendment, the constitution shall be deemed to be changed accordingly.

The proposed law also provides that if the vote on the question to be submitted at the biennial State election in 1970 is in the affirmative, the Governor shall appoint a preparatory commission of 5 members to compile data to aid the convention in the discharge of its duties. Each member of the commission shall receive compensation of $10,000 and the commission may expend a sum not in excess of $200,000, as the Governor may approve, for its expenses.

Task Force Seeks Aid On Auditorium Needs

The High School Auditorium Task Force is asking for the help of all town organizations to determine public auditorium needs, and the optimum size for a high school auditorium which would fill community as well as school needs.

Questionnaires have already been sent out to most groups in town, asking for instances for 1968 large-auditorium use, and the groups' estimate of needs in the next dozen years, including auditorium size.

The Task Force hopes that this news article will alert any groups or organizations it has missed, and wrote to the TOWNSMAN as follows:

"We strongly request that any group or individual who does not receive a questionnaire in the next few days, and can foresee a public need for an auditorium use in the foreseeable future, please write Andover High School Auditorium Task Force Committee c/o General Delivery, Andover for a questionnaire."

The task force needs all questionnaires by Nov. 4.

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen appointed the task force after the school committee voted to include an auditorium in its plans for an addition to the high school, to increase its capacity to 2,000.

Original blueprints for the high school included an auditorium, but town meeting slashed the facility when voting on the appropriation several years ago.

The high school addition was anticipated before actual construction of the building was begun. In the meantime, the pupil enrollment projections have pushed the addition from a 600 to an 800 pupil capacity.

Nugents Opens In Andover

Nugents, a woman's apparel firm serving New Englanders for over 40 years, became a part of the Andover business community when it opened its 47th store in the Shawsheen Plaza last Thursday.

Miss Lydia M. Ferris, store manager reported that she was pleased with the reception in Andover, finding, "many new friends who visited us over the weekend and were pleased with our offerings."

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen was on hand last Thursday to cut the ribbon officially signifying the opening of the new enterprise.

The store has over 3,000 square feet of sales space. Wall-to-wall carpeting covers the floors and the sales area is brightly illuminated.

A full line of fall and winter sportswear, dresses, coats and handbags is currently on display.

The store will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., with the exception of Saturday when the closing hour will be 6 p.m.

Miss Ferris has been in the retail clothing business for 25 years, serving 20 of those years as manager of the Nugents former location in Lawrence.

A staff of six full-time salesgirls is on hand at the store, assisted by a complement of part time assistants.

Week's Headliner: Potatoes

Potatoes from the Pioneer Valley of western Massachusetts and medium eggs from nearby egg producers headline a full list of native crops rated as "best buys" this week by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Governor John A. Volpe has proclaimed the period of Oct. 16-26 as "Massachusetts Potato Week" celebrating the finest quality native Katahdin potatoes in years.

Native McIntosh apples are plentiful and reasonably priced as are all varieties of native cabbage, broccoli, broccoli rabe, beets, carrots, cauliflower and celery. Salad ingredients are plentiful and low-priced including chicory, greenhouse cucumbers, Boston lettuce, romaine lettuce, radishes, scallions and greenhouse tomatoes. Other vegetables in abundant supply at economical prices include eggplant, leeks, kale, parsley, parsnips, pumpkins, spinach, acorn squash, blue Hubbard squash, butternut squash, Swiss chard and turnips. Native whole fresh cranberries are plentiful and reasonably priced. Medium eggs have dropped in price, bringing relief to homemakers, who will find many low-calorie ways of including native potatoes in reducing diets, with recipes like this: Potato and Chicken Casserole, with 320 calories per serving.

Mash 4 medium potatoes with 1/4 cup skim milk and lightly brush bottom of casserole dish with butter. Place 1 lb. precooked, chopped chicken meat on bottom of casserole dish. On top of chicken place mashed potatoes and top with thin slices of onion as desired. Bake in moderate oven 400 until potatoes are crusty and slightly browned. After baking, invert onto plate and top with 3 tbsps. hot skim milk cream sauce per serving. Serves 4.

Agri-Fact

The rich silt soil of western Massachusetts is credited with unusually fine quality of native Katahdin potatoes in this drought year. Regional Extension Agent, Walter Melnick, says this soil retains moisture for a much longer period, releasing it as potato bushes need it. Drought years also seem to coincide with the harvesting of firmer, more flavorful potatoes.

Academy Alumni Council Conducts Fall Meeting

The annual fall meeting of the Phillips Academy Alumni Council was held last weekend with approximately 150 council members, class agents, faculty and wives attending.

The topic for the weekend meeting, led by council president John M. Steadman '48, was "Student Activism on the Campus." Friday evening Dean of Students, John Richards, II, described the student proposals of last spring made to effect greater participation in the affairs and decisions of the academy which took formal shape this fall in the formation of the Student-Faculty Cooperative, which will replace the Student Congress.

R. Crosby Kemper, III, '69, senior class president and Fred Strebeigh '69, newly elected president of the Coop, described the formation and goals of the new organization which hopes to bring faculty and students into closer communication on issues affecting the school community. Three P.A. faculty members were elected by their colleagues to serve on the executive board: Frederick Allis, William Brown, and Timothy Callard. The student vice-president of the Coop is an Andover boy, Peter Olney, III, '69, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Olney, Jr. 79 Shawsheen Road.

Saturday morning Simeon Hyde, Jr., dean of the faculty, addressed the assembly to the two questions which the council, faculty and members from the current student body would discuss in small seminar sessions:

1. To what extent should students influence the policies and practices that govern their education? . . . To what extent can they?

2. To what extent should they be responsible for the decisions that govern their education? . . . To what extent can they?

Following the seminar discussions, the final session of the council was held where summaries of the seminar groups were presented and questioned. Headmaster John M. Kemper concluded the meeting by speaking of the historical growth of the current interest and investment which students feel in participating in decisions which influence their education.

Mississippi To Andover- A Self-Help Project

A line of interest and support stretches from West Point, Mississippi to Andover.

It ties together a self-help project of poor people who have banded together into a handicraft cooperative to earn a livelihood, and the Andover people who seek to provide a market for their products.

At one end of the line is Dora Adams, an elderly Negro Mississippian who is a field worker among her people and has assisted them in voter registration, counseling on employment, welfare, and family problems since 1964.

Since 1965, the Andover Council for Equal Opportunity has contributed an amount each year toward her small salary.

One of Dora Adams' largest problems is to find work for rural workers who have lost their jobs through mechanization of cotton and other farming, or through their activities in voter registration and other civil rights areas.

Her solution has been to encourage them to create work for themselves, and earn their livelihood by forming cooperative enterprises which turn out a marketable product. The result in West Point, Miss. is the West Point Woodcraft Volunteer Cooperative. Many of these rural poor people's cooperatives are being formed in the deep south, as an alternative to uprooting the family to migrate to northern cities in search of jobs.

At the other end of the line, in Andover, are townspeople who had heard of Dora Adams' work and had seen samples of the Coop's woodcraft, and who liked the idea of helping people to help themselves.

One of these is Austin Anderson, owner of the Andover Gift House, who has donated window space for a two-week display of the handicraft of the West Point Woodcraft Volunteer Cooperative, beginning today. Churches have also welcomed the display later at their bazaars.

Mrs. Douglas Dunbar, Sr., 9

Holt Road, has volunteered to take the orders for the woodcraft items on display, which will be delivered in time for Christmas giving.

The Andover Council for Equal Opportunities will send all profits back down the line to West Point, Miss., where Dora Adams and her people have begun a project toward self-respect.

Germany Seen Now As A Country Of Contrasts

By George Speers
General Manager
New England Press Association

(First of a Series)

In many respects modern Germany of the late 1960's is a country of many and varying contrasts. The deep roots of tradition, going back more than a 1,000 years are there. But so are the miniskirts swishing through the modern hustle and bustle of twentieth century cities.

Germany of today exhibits many signs of stability. Yet change is in the air, everywhere.

It doesn't take long for the visitor to sense that the German people are industrious and hard working. Everywhere people are diligently working. Construction is a commonplace sight. There seems to be plenty of work for all and nobody seems to want to avoid it. As a matter of fact one finds that shortages of help exist throughout the country. Workers from Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, and even as far away as Turkey are found filling many of the lesser skilled jobs.

Very little war damage is seen now, except in East Berlin. Despite the fact that many of the cities were 70 percent or more destroyed, they have now been restored or rebuilt.

Great efforts have been made in many instances to restore and refurbish buildings, cathedrals, and shrines of historical value. The skillful restoration work is amazing to the layman, and I suspect even to the expert as well.

Take the great Cathedral of Aachen, for instance. It was severely damaged during World War II. Today when one examines it, even closely, it is difficult to tell where the restoration work begins and the original work leaves off. Yet much of the restoration work required many skills in masonry, painting, architecture, and construction that are all but gone forever now.

How was this work done? A combination of two key factors were necessary: a very careful study of records and documents giving the details of construction and specific information plus the skilled genius of artisans most of whom were in their 70's and 80's. It is said that without the skills of these workers even modern technology probably could not have done the effective restoration work that was finally accomplished.

The Cathedral of Aachen, as well as many historic buildings in its vicinity, is an excellent example of the restoration work that has taken place throughout Germany in the past two decades or more. It is also a symbol of the country's respect for the ancient cultural heritage of the centuries past. The Aachen Cathedral is where Charlemagne (or Karl Der Grosse, as he is called by the Germans) held his coronation and it is where he is now buried. That was in 814 A.D.

PAST AND PRESENT BLEND TOGETHER in Germany today. The famed Cologne Cathedral (background) and the new, modern opera house symbolize the mingling of past centuries with the modernism of today that one sees throughout West Germany at present.

When one considers the impact of Charlemagne and his so called "Holy Roman Empire" on the thinking and direction of Western Culture of more than 1,000 years ago (up to about the 15th century), then the restoration of the Aachen Cathedral and the surrounding buildings assumes an importance far beyond bricks, mortar, gold leaf painting, and stained glass windows. The importance goes even beyond national boundaries. It is a part of our Western Culture.

The Cathedral of Aachen is but one of many, many restored historic edifices. One could also sight examples in Munich, or Lubeck in Northern Germany on the Baltic, or in Frankfurt, or Hamburg, or Stuttgart, or many other places.

But restoration work is not all the construction work that has taken place in Germany during recent years.

An enormous amount of modern construction has taken place. It is still going on. Modern buildings appear in just about every city of any size. Most are modern inside and out. The few that have exteriors of another period (omitting the restored, historic buildings) are, for the most part, modern inside. But for the signs, one could easily imagine being in American cities.

Even new subways are being built in some of the larger cities.

But yet with all of this construction going on, the cities are clean. The streets are clean. In large cities, in medium size cities, and in smaller towns this seems to prevail, on main streets and on back streets.

I came to this, and other conclusions, based upon my visits to more than 20 cities and towns. I visited the six largest cities in the country. I traveled hundreds of miles by automobile, and several hundred more by train. I walked the streets, front and back, in every city and town I visited. I walked through some vineyards along the Rhine river and hiked up some of the smaller mountains along the way. I also rode on subway trains and enjoyed an excursion boat trip on a section of the Rhine. I deliberately left the main streets frequently to get a "feeling" of the country and the people.

Naturally, I went by air in some instances. But only in a minimum number of instances, such as in and out of Berlin. Flying, of course, is faster, but does not afford one the opportunity to see very much.

In addition to traveling, on foot and otherwise, I did a great deal of talking (with scores of people - I lost count). And sitting. And drinking beer and wine in many beirstube (beer halls) and weinstube (wine halls). I lost count of these, too, but there must have been dozens. I was in nearly a dozen in Frankfurt alone in three days.

So, after all of my travels and (Continued on Page 13)

GERMANY

discussions and interviews with editors and publishers, journalists, university professors, governmental officials, students, and just ordinary people, I have left Germany with the impression that it is a country of contrasts — some very old and much that is new.

My impression is that there is a great striving to look ahead — to the future. There is a sense of direction and unity of purpose. There is a great willingness to build for the future, but with safeguards to avoid past mistakes.

Yet, the cultural ties of centuries past are still evident. And these are important to the people. They are willing to sacrifice and work to preserve them.

So there is a certain "reaching" in both directions. There is a "reaching" to the future for the new and, yet, at the same time, the rich cultural traditions of centuries past are important to the German people and they are doing everything possible to preserve them.

LEAF LOADER. The town's new leaf loader has been in operation throughout the streets during the past few weeks. The loader is actually a vacuum truck which picks up the leaves which have been placed out on the street, thus eliminating burning. It also has saved time from former operations when a number of men loaded trucks manually. It is expected that this method will also prevent catch basin blockups, since the leaves can be picked up quicker. (Cole)

Leaves Can Be Put To Good Use

Leaves are too valuable to burn.
Leaves, grass clippings, and other garden cuttings can produce a beautiful, rich, black dirt if they are put back into the land. They will turn into fertile soil if they are left a few months in a compost pile.

The purpose of a compost pile is to partially decompose the leaves. The resulting humus will improve the soil structure and serve as "food" for the plants.
Every gardener, like every good cook, has his own recipe for composting. Here's one you might try for a start.

Recipe for "Compost Cake"

First prepare a container or bin: an open bin may be three to five feet high, three to five feet wide, and as long as you want.
Make the bin of openwork bricks, boards, or fence, so air can get in.

Fill the bin with layers of composting material. In each layer put:

1. a layer of leaves, grass, etc.
six to twelve inches thick
2. some nitrogen and phosphorous fertilizer - plus a liming material if your soil is acid, as most New England soil is
3. a half-inch "frosting" of garden soil
4. water to moisten the layer thoroughly

When the pile has as many layers as you have leaves, top it with a thick "frosting" of a one- or two-inch layer of garden soil.

Now all you need to do is see that the pile is dampened with water whenever it seems dry. It will help keep the pile moist if you pack it with your feet around the edges, but pack it lightly in the middle.

Then the middle will settle and the water won't drain off.

The compost cake will "cook" itself. Bacteria will grow and produce heat as a by-product of decomposing the leaves. The compost pile will get hotter and hotter, and at about 120 degrees the bacteria will commit suicide by producing so much heat they can't live in it. Then a new set of bacteria called thermophiles, will take over. They will raise the temperature 140 to 170 degrees for several weeks, a sign that all is well within the compost pile.

Turn the pile over in about May, shoveling the dry material from the edges into the inside of the pile. By summer, your compost pile will have turned into good, dark soil, all ready to be spaded into your garden wherever you need it.

Golden leaves aren't exactly worth their weight in gold - but they are worth their weight in rich, black dirt and next year's green growing things. Don't burn them!

New Finance Committee Members Are Appointed

Two recent appointments to the Finance Committee were recently announced by Moderator Arthur Williams.

Arthur Heifetz, 77 Wildwood Road, has been named to fill the unexpired term of David Thompson who recently resigned.

Frank J. Byrne, 21 Birch Road, was named to a three year term succeeding Allen M. Flye, who recently retired after a number of years of service to the town.

Heifetz, born in Lawrence, has been a resident of Andover for many years. He is a graduate of local schools and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A veteran of World War II, he was awarded the bronze star medal, the European Theater of Operations medal with three battle stars and was recently retired from the U.S. Army Reserve with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

He is president-treasurer of the Andover Finance Co., and is a member of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Con-

Married to the former Beatrice Robbins, the couple has three

FAMILY SERVICE ASSOCIATION OF GREATER LAWRENCE

Waiting list began November 1967.

December 1967: 8 cases — 3 weeks' wait for first appointment
January 1968: 10 cases — 4 weeks' wait for first appointment
February 1968: 21 cases — 5-6 weeks' wait for first appointment
March 1968: 28 cases — 6-8 weeks' wait for first appointment

Of the 28 cases on the waiting list in March, the family problems fell into 4 categories: Marital conflict; parent's concern about child's behavior and adjustment; total family relationship problem and the problem of individual social adjustment.

MARITAL CONFLICT

Thirteen requests were for marital counseling. The average length of marriage in these situations was 4 years. There are 52 people in these families and the children are obviously young in view of the short duration of marriage. "We're ready to go to court" or "We're about to separate unless we get some help right away" are common pleas.

CHILD BEHAVIOR AND ADJUSTMENT

There are 7 situations where the parent has called expressing concern about a child's problem. Three are adolescent and four are pre-adolescent. In at least two cases, possession of Marijuana is part of the problem.

TOTAL FAMILY RELATIONSHIP PROBLEM

This problem was represented by 6 cases. The category means that there are conflicts spilling over among family members. Examples: Husband beating wife, excessive drinking, an adolescent being pushed into delinquent behavior, poor school adjustment of another child and much arguing and tension between all family members.

INDIVIDUAL SOCIAL ADJUSTMENT

Two requests for personal counseling by people worried about their ability to cope with life situations . . . inability to get along with boss or with other people on the job. A separated mother who is so discouraged she wants to escape and thinks of "giving my children to the State".

There were a total of 107 people in 26 situations. They represent a cross section of the community. 13 are from Lawrence, 7 from Andover, 4 from North Andover, 2 from Methuen and 2 are from Salem, N. H. All these requests for service were characterized by a sense of urgency and need for immediate attention.

Families looking for maximum benefit need be seen for a period of several months. There are an average of 36 requests for service a month.

The Decision Is Yours

Andover voters this year face one of the most difficult tasks in many years.

We speak not so much of the presidential race, but face the issue of local representation in the state legislature.

This year, Andover has been "gerrymandered," and we use the term advisedly, into three districts. Precincts one five and six are grouped with North Andover, Precincts two and four lumped in with a ward in Lawrence and Precinct three, coupled with another Lawrence ward.

Conceivably this carved up community could wind up with no local representation in the legislature. We assume that the party machinery in Boston could care less how Andover feels.

There are Andover candidates seeking office. In one particular race Rep. Paul W. Cronin of Andover is facing Rep. James P. Hurrell of North Andover. One of the two will fall victim to the redistricting. Cronin's district is afflicted by the fact that there are more North Andover voters than are contained in his three precincts in Andover.

This is an unfortunate race, since both young men have proven themselves well in their freshman year in the legislature. They are youthful, energetic, have represented their areas well and have not necessarily gone down party lines.

In precincts two and four, Warren C. Lafferty, an Andover resident, is a candidate for election, against Lawrence P. Smith of Lawrence. Lafferty faces an uphill fight against a veteran legislator. Running as a Republican, Lafferty will have difficulty once outside of Andover, since Lawrence is predominately Democrat.

Andover needs continued representation in the legislature. Whether or not this community will continue to be heard among the shouts of the legislators of the big cities will be determined on Nov. 5.

That determination must be made by the voters of Andover when they go to the polls. If you choose to be bludgeoned in state government, and not have at least a voice, then you can not criticize.

The decision is yours. Vote as you please, but we feel you must keep Andover in mind.

The Ostrich At DPW

How many times do we have to see multiple car accidents on Interstate Route 93 in the same location before someone, either in state or federal government does something about the matter.

Last week 28 trucks and cars were piled up and several persons injured in an accident which started at 6 a.m., closed the highway in sections and was attributed to what some officials described as "fog, speed and stupidity."

We will refrain from comment on the speed and stupidity and admit that such attribution could be open to debate.

The fog situation, however, is one which apparently the state Department of Public Works is pulling an ostrich act on, namely sticking its head in the sand.

Officials there, if they haven't already, should be "in the fog," real deeply.

This is not the first accident of this nature to occur in that particular stretch of Route 93. Fortunately, to date, no one has been killed, but there have been crippling injuries resulting from the domino-like crashes.

We are not engineers or experts in the effects of climate changes. We do know that fog is a vast mass of water vapor resulting primarily from temperature change.

In this particular location, we understand, are peat bogs and swamps which lend themselves quite appropriately to the production of fog.

Possibly something could be done to eliminate the cause, if the state officials would take the time to examine the problem.

Another solution is to have the state police check the area more frequently when there is the possibility of heavy fog conditions. Last week they reportedly viewed the area one-half hour before and found things all right. Later a wind shift found the highway enshrouded.

Had the condition been found in time, then accidents could have been avoided by shutting off that section of the road.

It was obvious that there was going to be some fog, since it was rolling in the night before.

With the repetition of serious accidents in the particular location we think it is about time something is done to correct the situation and promptly.

Not to sound trite, but could we add, do something soon before someone gets killed.

Congratulations

We note with pride the 100th anniversary of the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune.

Being in the business of public information, it is with particular pleasure to see a publication reach such a milestone.

We are a weekly publication, but well aware of the daily problems of publishing a daily newspaper.

As the Eagle-Tribune marks its anniversary, it looks forward to moving into a new and larger plant in North Andover. This makes an anniversary both noteworthy as well as forcasting continued success.

We hope the Eagle-Tribune will continue to be a good and faithful servant for another century in the Greater Lawrence community of which Andover is an integral part.

Some persons can be classified as indiscriminate in dealing with fund drives. Word has reached this desk that during the recent Boosters Club membership drive, some persons interested in another fund raising effort, took advantage of the two nights advertised by the Boosters.

Appearing at homes, unidentified, many persons contributed with the idea they were giving to the Boosters. When the high school students approached the same homes, they were informed a donation had already been given.

The Boosters may have lost a large amount through this, particularly in the Shawsheen area.

To show how well the conduct of teenagers participating in the teen center program at the high school is going along, the program was allowed to continue one night last week, despite an open house being conducted by the school.

The youngsters even assisted some portions of the annual sophomore open house to which parents were invited. They aided in the serving of refreshments and helped as guides, directing parents to proper sections of the building.

We are indebted to a couple of youngsters, Roberta and Francesca Perreault, 46 Whittier St., for their contribution toward solving the problem of the odor in the center of town.

The two handed the following, "Death Of A Brook," to the desk this week:

What's that mysterious odor in the center of Andover?

Why, it's the ghost of dead brook coming back to haunt you.

You can't cover nature with hot top and cement forever.

We nature lovers know, the Halloween Ghost told us so.

William MacKenzie, 215 Lowell St., may win $1,000 and two tickets to Scotland in the Rusty Nail Hole-In-One Sweepstakes as a result of scoring an ace recently at the Andover Country Club. The winner will be announced early next year.

Finches May Head South

The northern New England finches may spend this winter in southern New England.

Some people think these chunky birds which normally withstand the worst of weather may go even farther south than Connecticut because of the general wild food shortage in most of New England.

For finches, which includes such birds as pine siskins, red crossbills, pine grosbeaks, evening grosbeaks, and such more prosaic birds as juncos and tree sparrows, the winter food supply regulates their choice of a wintering area.

The more northern birds in the group, especially the grosbeaks, siskins and crossbills, depend greatly upon tree seeds. The principal producers of seeds that normally can be found above the snow line in the snowiest of winters are conifers (evergreens), birches and beeches.

Robert Smart, president of the Audubon Society of New Hampshire, reported last week that the northern tree seed crop is extremely poor this year. Smart said that reports of northern finches visiting in southern New Hampshire already have been reported.

In Massachusetts, Allen H. Morgan, executive vice president of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, said that fifteen pine siskins - which rarely venture south until late winter - already have been seen in Marblehead.

Farther south, Alfred L. Hawkes of the Audubon Society of Rhode Island and Robert Kunz of the Connecticut Conservation Association both reported no evident invasion by winter finches yet.

So long as they can find food, the northern finches seldom venture even as far south as southern New England. The feathers and

In food short years, they move as far south as necessary to find seeds. In exceptional years, a few may move as far south as the Appalachian range in Georgia.

Andover, Chelmsford Tie; Harriers Top North Andover

By Randy Thompkins

The Andover High football team tied Chelmsford, 0-0, last Saturday afternoon at the high school field. Playing in the pouring rain, neither team could mount a sufficient offense to score. The rain caused both teams to lose the ball often; Chelmsford fumbled twice, Andover six times.

In the first half, Andover went to the Chelmsford 41 yard line through a fumble recovery by Doug Thompson, but failed to continue its drive. Later in the third quarter, Jim Gillan recovered a Chelmsford fumble. Andover then moved to the Chelmsford 23 yard line by the running of Gillan and Ellis Rowe, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Chelmsford threatened in the second quarter as it ran the ball to the Andover 17. Dick Gargagliano brought it to the 10 yard line, but a holding penalty offset the gain, and Chelmsford gave up the ball at the Andover 28.

Recovering another fumble, Chelmsford tried a field goal at the Andover eight yard line late in the final quarter. Doug Towne of Andover came through the line to block the kick, insuring a tie for Andover.

Because of the tie, Andover lost its chance to catch Wilmington for the conference lead, as Wilmington had its first loss of the season, losing to Dracut.

Next Saturday, Andover goes to Tewksbury. Tewksbury gave Chelmsford their first season loss, after winning the two opening games.

CROSS COUNTRY

Andover defeated North Andover in cross country last Wednesday, 24-33, in a dual meet at Andover High.

Andover was without the running of Gary Tomlinson, out with a knee injury, but won the meet on greater depth.

Joe Cardello of North Andover won the race itself, with Clayton White of Andover second. Kevin Callahan of North Andover placed third, but Andover swept the next four places with Dan Early, Ken Sheehan, Roger Jenkins, and Tom Conlon to win the meet.

The Andover runners, now 6-1-1, go Saturday morning to the Massachusetts State Qualifying Meet at Franklin Park, Boston. Andover will face Chelmsford and Billerica, league leaders, next Wednesday, Oct. 30, in the Merrimack Valley Conference Meet at Burlington, starting at 3:30 p.m.

Four Named To Committees At Harvard

Four Andover residents have been appointed to visiting committees at Harvard University for the 1968-'69 year. The committees provide a link between the various university departments and alumni and friends of the university.

Rev. John Crocker, 34 Phillips St., will serve the classics, romance languages and literature departments.

Dr. James H. Grew, Hidden Field, will serve the romance languages and literatures departments.

Phillips Academy Headmaster John M. Kemper is on the Harvard College committee and Frederick S. Allis, Jr., 21 Phillips St., is serving on the Harvard University Press committee.

Students To Poll Voter Sentiment

Members of an elective class at the high school entitled, "The Elections of 1968 and Analysis of the Results," will poll town residents this afternoon and Friday, Oct. 25. Those polled will be asked to fill out a short questionnaire, fold the form, and place it in the boxes provided. No signature will be required, thus safeguarding individual privacy.

Students will be stationed in Shawsheen Plaza, Purity Sav-Mor, outside several professional centers and one or two factories. As many random samples as possible will be taken.

The purpose of the poll is to familiarize the students in the class with the sentiment of the local electorate and thereby enabling them to further analyze the results of the election.

Town Clerk Piper has been appearing before several local organizations giving demonstrations of the new machinery and how it works. He states that he will continue to be available to provide proper information for the voters prior to election day.

The system is really very simple, Piper says, noting that instead of being handed a paper ballot and using a pencil, the voter will now receive a card and envelope that is to be inserted into the machine and punched.

There will be 110 machines in use at the election. In the larger precincts, such as four and six, there will be at least 20 voting booths, the town clerk states. This will be an increase over prior elections, he reports.

Both the town clerk, registrars of voters and election officials, will run through a test of the machinery and the card voting prior to Nov. 5. Intended is to intentionally make errors, count the vote manually, then run them through the computer to test the results.

Pressurized chambers with an atmosphere high in oxygen content are used to speed the healing of wounds.

Books Needed For Benefit

Arrangements have been made for Andover residents to contribute to the famous Yankee Book-stall to benefit the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston.

This will be the 15th annual sale and books of all types are needed, even textbooks if they are fairly recent.

Persons disposing of books for any reason may contact Mrs. James H. Grew, 16 Hidden Field Road or Mrs. Samuel L. Lowe, 18 Oriole Drive.

Classical Music To Be Presented

The Greater Lawrence Cultural Institute will present "An Evening of Classical Music," Nov. 8 at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall at 8 p.m.

Three of the performing artists will be Peter Diodati and Norman Nichols, professionally known as the Tremont Chamber Duo, and Mrs. Doris Diamond, soprano.

Mr. Diodati graduated from Lawrence High school in 1953 and continued his education at the Arlington Academy of Music from which he graduated in 1959. Besides playing the classical harmonica, he also plays the vibraphones.

Mr. Nichols is a design engineer at Sylvania Electric in Bedford. He studied classical guitar at the Boston University Evening School of Music. He also plays the violin.

The Tremont Chamber Duo has been together for the past year and a half. They have played many times in concert and in many night clubs throughout New England.

Mrs. Doris Diamond is a graduate of Lawrence High school, where she sang the leads in the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, among them "The Gondoliers," and "Rudigore." At the same time she was invited to be soloist for the Alumni Symphony Orchestra, an honor for one so young. She was graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music and attended the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Tickets may be obtained at Kelley's Book Store and Rapid Check Photo Service on Amesbury St., Lawrence.

Personnel Changes

Two resignations and two new appointments were approved by the school committee Tuesday night, which was chaired by Committeeman William A. Doherty in the absence of Chairman Dr. Richard Katz.

The school committee accepted with regret the resignation of G. Arthur Danforth as director of the summer school. Mrs. Joseph Giguere's resignation as secretary at the Sanborn school, due to marriage, was also accepted.

Miss Susan Schulman of Brookline was appointed a grade six teacher at Stowe school, to replace Lowell Canovitch, who has been reassigned to the adjustment class at East Junior High school. Miss Schulman is a graduate of Boston University and will receive the $6,200 starting teacher's salary.

The election of Al Retelle as assistant football coach at West Junior High school at a salary of $325 was also approved.

The following East Junior High school appointments were approved: Catherine Hitz and Barbara Somers as advisors to the school newspaper, James Hartmann as dramatics coach and Franklin Hayward as debating advisor.

She may be contacted at the Ballardvale Branch Library during regular library hours, Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m.

HALLOWEEN

Stories of ghosts and spooky events will be told at the first story hour of the season for school-age children, which will be held Thursday, Oct. 31 at Memorial Hall Library. Children should be present promptly at 3:30 p.m. in the Children's Room, and parents can meet their children in the Children's Room at the close of the program at 4:15 p.m.

EYE EASE

Large print books are available at Memorial Hall Library to make reading easier and more enjoyable for people who read ordinary print with difficulty or who find larger printless tiring. Some readers think that the larger print increases their reading speed.

Some of the titles of the large print books in our collection are: John Steinbeck, "Travels with Charley." Barbara Tuchman, "The Guns of August." Margaret Mitchell, "Gone with the Wind." John LeCarre, "The Spy Who Came 'A Separate Peace.'" John F. Kennedy, "Profiles in Courage." Zane Grey, "The Arizona Clan." Rachel Carson, "The Sea Around Us." Owen Wister, "The Virginian." Owen Sayers, "Strong Poison."

Many people feel that they are too busy to read a book. It's true that many of us are pressed for time . . . that our days are filled with chores to do, places to go, tasks of all sorts. Most people don't have hours on end for leisurely reading.

Seminar At Activity Center

The Student Activity Center at the high school is staging a seminar on Vietnam on Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the large group room. Both students and adults in the community are invited.

John Curtin, AHS history teacher, Mrs. Thomas Rees, who teaches history at Bradford Junior College, and has been prominent in the anti-war movement in the area, and Major E.J. Land, Jr., a veteran of 13 months in Vietnam, will be speakers. A question and answer period will follow.

James Carroll, adult advisor to the Student Activity Center, emphasized that this will not be a debate between speakers, but rather an information seminar, with the purpose of enlightening the student with some expert opinion so that they may draw their own conclusions.

Some questions up for consideration, drawn from a poll of student interest are: 1, the legality of the war 2, how a North Vietnam victory would affect the U.S. 3, why are we involved and 4, an examination of South Vietnamese at-

Cash Balance

Massachusetts' cash balance for September was $40.5 million, state treasurer Robert Q. Crane noted today in his regular monthly report on the financial condition of the Commonwealth.

The September cash balance showed a reduction over August's $42,078,396, balance because the state's total disbursements for the month exceeded total receipts. Total September receipts, treasurer Crane reported, were $242,273,048.92 as against total disbursements of $243,848,010.79. The Commonwealth bonded indebtedness, treasurer Crane added, continues over the one billion dollar mark. As of Oct. 1, it was $1,029,432,000 while a year ago the bonded indebtedness was $966,852,000.

new addition which will be used for therapeutic work.

Other technical skills would also be developed at the school he said. Fred Tarbox, chairman of the Voke school committee, and Andover's representative to the region, told of the need for expansion, since the school is already crowded.

He said there were 660 boys there now with 300 turned away for lack of space.

The school is in operation from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily with some Saturday classes scheduled.

The facility is also offering teacher extension courses on Saturdays, for which 130 are presently registered.

The matter of the addition will ultimately face town meeting action in March.
